Last night an outerprising burgler broke into the Police Court, and, making his way into the Magistracy offices, ransacked some of the desks and carried off a few dollars. The burglary must have been the work of one familiar with the Magistracy. No clue, of the perpetrator has been discovered.

To hav, at the Magistracy, Capt. Hastings sentenced Li Mo, doctor, to six months' imprisonment for having thirteen counterfeit ailver coins in his possession. He had been previously convicted. He tendered the usual excuse that he intended making the coins into buttens. For attering & counterfeit of a Straits Settlements coin he was sentenced to a scoond period of six months' imprisonment. We have received from the General Agent of the Canadian Pacific line a number of guides, time-tables, descriptive pamphlets, &c. with reference to this new popular route, all got up in highly-artistic style, and, as regards the descriptive portion of them, profusely illustrated with excellent photo-lithographs. One neat pamphlet is A Guide to the principal Cities in China and Japan, which gives a great deal of information useful and interesting to tourists. Hongkong, among other places, is described, and the guide contains lists of Chinese and Japaness words and phrases, a calendar and a map. One neatly-got-up and well-illustrated booklet devotes itself to the scenery on the direct railway route of the Canadish-Pacific; another deals with summer tours in the regions traversed by the iron read; another is intended as round-the-world guide; and another, a complete vade mecum for sportsmen, treats of fishing and shooting on the railway route.

THE N. C. Daily News learns that for some years past all the rice and wheat shipped to Tientsin by whatever vessel has gone dutyfree, under the permits, or huchaes, issued by the Taotsi at Shaughai which are now only issued for the steamers of the China Merchanta Company.

Just at midnight on Sunday (says the N.-C. Daily News of Tuesday last the are-bells gave the alarm and the firemen were soon out. The fire was found to be in some homes on the north side of Peking Road and west of Shanse Road. In a short time the Mih-ho-loongs and all the engine companies, except the Hongkew company whose services were not required, were playing powerful streams of water on the flames, which were got under in less than twenty minutes from the time the bells rang, though some of the firemen remained till 2 s.m. pouring water on the buildings, the contents of which were saturated with kerosene from tine that burst owing to the heat. Two houses were wholly destroyed and one partially. The damage is estimated at about Tls. 500 and was covered by inaurance, the property being owned by Mr. A. D. Sassoon. The houses destroyed were second-hand shops. The fire is said to have been caused by a man smoking. It was reported that a woman jumped out of an upper window, but fortunately was not hurt. It was noticed that at this fire. as has been the case at several others lately, Chinese wearing uniforms made themselves conspicuous. One had on his jacket the initials of a bank on the Bund; another had the words ' Foreign Piece Goods Guild' and the name of a Garman firm on his řacket.

is dated Hankow, 20th September:--

A letter has reached here to-day from a correspondent (native) in Ch'angeha, which contains news of more than usual interest and importance. He says that just now the examinations are going on, and will chapter was written in 1862 by the author continue to the end of the eighth month for of the work, and is a critique on three the literary, and to the end of the tenth tracts composed by three Protestant Mismonth for the military students. I can sing you offender, who is to be beheaded as a warning to the other students. Anent which our correspondent remarks 'although the Hunan men are like iron, the authorities are a fornace which can still melt them. He then goes on to state: - I wrote the above yesterday evening, the 22nd (the 1260 met.) in the morning I found the whole city again placarded. At midday I heard that the students of the three great colleges, and the twelve districts (of, Ch'angsha Fu) were summoned to assemble in the Ticu Hou Kung天妃宫 temple, in order to have a grand deliberation about I could not learn what, I went slong and found the literary students going in in great numbers, and on the main door of the temple, I saw written up "With whole heart we offer our lives," 'Attack and beat the foreign men," and many other such like sentences. I entered and found over a thousand literary men assembled. It was stated that H.E. Wu had been appointed to the Governorship of Hunan, and intended to introduce foreigners into the province. That he would lease them ground to build residences, and establish foreign hongs and preaching halls. Amongst those present I saw the presidents of the three great colleges. After two hours there was a distribution of books when they gave me six, which I send you herewith. The placards on the temple walls outside were not many, and I could not take any down. They were such as

"With one heart retain Governor Chang in

The above information may be accepted as perfectly reliable in every particular, and here is much that one might say by way of comment on it. I will content myself with pointing out that if everyone present at the meeting was supplied with literature on the same liberal scale, at least 10,000 copies of anti-foreign works were then | distributed at a probable cost of about $1,00 '. Mistrusting my own judgment, I have takon considerable pains to obtain disinterested opinions from representatives of all non-commissioned ranks. The general feeling aroused by the porusal of the book is one of resentment, its readers combining in stigmatising the work as the grossest libel upon the typical British Brave that has hitherto appeared in print. One poem alone—that of 'Tommy here! and Tommy there!' &c., has the ring of truth in it. It is written with a moral, and appeals to the better feelings and dispassionate judgment of a thoughtless public on behalf of a worthy and misunderstood-if not always faultlessly conducted-body of men. There is now a world-wide belief that the right hand is the proper hand for all State occasions. It is proposed to discover how this belief was generated. Now we do, in the man or in the tiger, see an apparent external symmetry. But if more closely we examine we begin to discover variations. Thus the two eyes of a man are seldom alike either in size or in efficiency. The two ears are seldom exactly equal in consitiveness. Also, frequently, we shall find that one of them is placed higher on the head than is the other. As to the nose, it is seldom set quite straight on the face.

From causes like these the right profile is usually different from the left profile. This fact is well known to photographers as regards their customers in general, and patch of cruption, resembling ringworm, coverto each particular woman for her own individual guidance.

Let us take another example—which also has reference to sight. Boxing affords not only a severe training for activity of body but also for quickness of sight. Fencing, in like manner, severely trains the sight. But between them there is a difference. ments of the adversary falls chiefly on the is chiefly kept vigilant. Here the fencer and the boxer are both supposed to be right-handed. In the boxer the left eye becomes the more active. In the fencer the right eye learns to take the lead. These examples are sufficient to recommend our thesis-that unsymmetrical variations are neither accidental nor independent. Thus for the fencer righthandedness causes right-sightedness; while for the boxer right-handedness induces left-sightedness.

THE SACRIFICE OF LIFE. Thousands of lives are sacrificed annually hecause mankind are not educated in the first rudiments of hygiene and life-preservation. Simple ailments are neglected. The debility increases, and some fatal disease attacks the victim, and all life's pleasure departs, existence becomes a burden, life a trouble, and all because mankind is so apathetic and regardless of the signs nature souds that the vital strength is declining. All cases require immediate attention before it is extramely debilitated, the doctors being disease is known in medical circles as ancemia or poverty of blood. Pains invaded all parts of my body; I suffered from general languar, extreme weakness, listlessness, dejection of spirits, indigestion, fickle appetite and disturbed sleep. My as the disease progressed I became more nervous and hystorical. My sufferings were also greatly increased by a shock to the nervous system received last year, when a railway carriage in which I was seated caught fire. When my case was most critical and gave serious apprehensions to my friends and myself. I started on a course of Clements Tonic which I took in conjunction with Dr Fletcher's pills. The first two bottles effected a great improvement, and I could relish my food again, and my general weakness and nervousness vanished altogether. I took about twelve bottles of Clements Tonic, and my pale face is now replaced with the hae of health, and my recovery is as complete as it was speedy." A writer in Indian Engineering, dealing D. W. THE CHINA REVIEW PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY

11HIS Review, which was intended to meet 1 the wants of many students of Chinese A caused by the discontinuance of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Twentieth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppormost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts. Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Moagolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction. the Magazine would be made more generally useful
